The National Center for Biotechnology Information (NCBI) developed OSIRIS in collaboration with noise, customized naming conventions and internal laboratory controls. When used in complement Thus, in addition to extremely sensitive peak analysis, OSIRIS offers two new peak quality measures – of the sample. This allows effective integration of the ladder with the sample for a straightforward and interpolate the ILS into base pair estimates. Instead, OSIRIS uses the correspondence between a

...